Madame is a fashionable clairvoyant of Bond Street. She has an appointment with a young lady who wishes to consult her regarding the whereabouts of a missing French poodle.

Miss De Vere is a young lady, recently engaged to be married, who has lost trace of her intended husband. Without making an appointment, she calls upon Madame at the hour appointed for the visit of the other lady. Madame assumes that her caller is the lady seeking the missing dog, and deals with her accordingly, with results which will, it is hoped, be found amusing by a large and distinguished audience.
